

Greetings friends in Christ,

I am sooooo excited about our special 40th anniversary/World Communion Sunday service. Rev. Dave Stum, the first pastor appointed to Covenant UMC, is offering a special world on Called to Journey Together. There is a wonderful presentation on the history of Covenant from Camille Bohannon, amazing music from our choir, including a special rendition of People Need the Lord with guest cellist, Adam Bush. Finally, a time of farewell to our own Jerry Brown, a charter member of Covenant UMC. Jerry moved to Columbia MD a while ago and has been looking for a church a little closer to home. With COVID-19, he has made the transition to Kittamaqundi Community Church and the time came for us to say Godspeed.

Finally, we will be celebrating World Communion Sunday. Our special communion liturgy was written by Rev. Shannon Sullivan, Associate Pastor at Calvary UMC in Frederick, MD. Gather your communion elements that you picked up from church on Saturday, or from your home, and join us for this holy meal.

One disappointing note on our service today. You will notice that the closed captioning is not yet available. We use YouTube's captioning service and have noticed that there are sometimes delays especially with long services. We are monitoring the situation and hope to have them available soon.

So, just click HERE, and join us for worship!

Dave and Jerry will both join us for a special celebration coffee/fellowship hour on from 9:30-10:30 on Zoom (Just click HERE or call (301)715-8592 and enter the Meeting ID 782 306 921)

We hope you and your family will make a special effort to join us for worship and take part in our fellowship hour as we celebrate all that God has done in and through the body of Christ at Covenant UMC.

With grace and peace, Pastor Dawn
